King, Boltus highlight 2007 D3football.com All-Region team

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

STERLING, Va. – College of New Jersey defensive tackle Joe King was named D3football.com 2007 East Region Defensive Player of the Year and Hartwick quarterback Jason Boltus was named D3football.com 2007 East Region Offensive Player of the Year. College of New Jersey coach Eric Hamilton was named East Region Coach of the Year in the site's annual regional awards.

The teams, selected in balloting by East Region sports information directors and D3football.com staff, were chosen from 173 nominations by Division III member schools. A total of 75 players were chosen.

King, a senior from Mountainside, N.J., recorded 28 tackles for loss and 15 sacks while breaking up seven passes for the Lions, who held opponents to 70.5 rushing yards per game.

Boltus, a junior from Baldwinsville, N.Y., led the Hawks to the NCAA playoffs for the first time by throwing for 3,986 yards and rushing for 418 in 11 games. He passed for 38 touchdowns and ran for seven more.

Hamilton led TCNJ, which was picked eighth of nine teams in the NJAC preseason coaches poll, to an 8-2 regular season record and a first-round NCAA playoff win.
